Southern Baptist Convention—Oklahoma City, Okla.

Martin Ball.

Meetings of the numerous organizations affiliated with the Southern Baptist Convention began their sessions Tuesday morning, May 14th. The Sunday School field secretaries met in the assembly hall of the Lee-Huckin's Hotel. Three meetings were held during the day. The conferences were well attended. Mississippi's own secretary, J. E. Byrd had an important place in the conferences. He is regarded as one of the best. Secretary Arthur Flake, than whom there is none better, was also prominent in each of these meetings. Secretary W. D. Moorner, of Oklahoma, has announced a big banquet for all finishing the King's Teachers' Course. The event will take place Friday evening.

INDIANS ARRIVE.

Thirty Pawnee braves, headed by White Eagle and Knife Chief, the tribe leaders, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon. They were met by a special delegation from the entertainment committee, who escorted them around to headquarters at 4 W. Main street where badges were pinned upon their coats, entitling them to all the courtesies of the convention. They will stretch twenty tents on the vacant space at Seventeenth street and Robinson avenue today, and one of their leaders will deliver a speech sometime during the sessions of the convention, which will be interpreted as it is spoken.

"We have come down to the big meeting of our Baptist pale face brethren," said Knife Chief last night, "because their missionaries and teachers have been working among us for years, showing us the Jesus way and teaching us better methods of living, and we want to let them know that we appreciate their efforts. This is going to be a big meeting and we Indians are going to enjoy it very much." White Eagle is a patriarchal looking old chief, 79 years of age. This is the first big convention he has ever attended and his delight is beyond expression.

Of course, Oklahoma will be largely represented.

The annual report of Dr. Lansing Burrows, statistical secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention, is one of unusual interest.

It shows that there are in the world today 6,515,878 Baptists. Of these, 5,484,304 are in the United States; 2,421,203 are in the South. In Canada there are 131,937; in Mexico there are 3,134; in the West Indies and Central America there are 52,374; in South America there are 9,181; in Europe, 605,694; in Asia, 186,002; in Africa, 15,017; and in Australia, there are 28,199. These are the white Baptists. In the South careful estimates place the number of negro Baptists at 1,908,464.

There has been an increase in the number of Baptists in the South since last year of 80,739. The Baptists of the South report church property this year valued at $46,843,879. This is an increase of $3,449,998 over the previous year, showing that much church building has been going on in the denomination.

The Baptists of the South gave this past year for missions, which includes state, home and foreign, as well as city missions, the sum of $1,520,423, which is an increase over last year of $16,678.

The sum contributed for all purposes is given at $10,921,406, an increase of $497,021.

The different churches reported 132,396 baptisms, a decrease of 2,000 from what was reported the previous year. This is something unusual among Southern Baptists.

During the past year 26,845 people have been turned out of the Baptist churches in the South, 1,997 more than were excluded the year before. To offset this there were 2,543 who were restored to the churches after they had been turned out. This was 353 less than the number restored the previous year.

WEDNESDAY—AFTERNOON.

By two o'clock the great meeting house of the First church was filled with messengers, who were exchanging hearty good cheer. Old friends, who had not seen each other in several years, locked hands and some hugged, and one man exclaimed, "look, they are kissing!" There never assembled a body of men with more joyous good feeling and fixed determination to give the gospel to the dying world.

"All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" was sung by the great throng, led by R. J. Coleman, of Dallas, Texas. A mighty voice of praise went up to the great name of the mighty Savior. "Higher Ground" was also sung. Dr. E. C. Dargan, president, read the 90th Psalm. Dr. R. C. Buckner, of Texas, was requested to lead the Convention in the first prayer. The prayer was helpful and spiritual.

Dr. Dargan called the convention to order. The secretary, Dr. Lansing Burrows, announced the enrollment to the present.

The convention unanimously re-elected Dr. E. C. Dargan president. J. P. Green, of Mo.; Chas. A. Smith, of S. C.; J. Pike Powers, of Tenn.; and Carter Helm Jones, of Oklahoma, were elected vice-presidents.

Drs. Burrows and O. F. Gregory were re-elected secretaries.

Dr. Carter Helm Jones delivered a splendid address of welcome.

Dr. J. M. Frost read the report of the Sunday School Board. With this year the Sunday School Board becomes of age, and submits its twenty-first annual report. The sunshine of heavenly favor with fine business advancement and successful work done in the field has marked the year's work.

It is interesting to note that the receipts while thirteen years (1891-1904) in reaching the one hundred thousand dollar mark for the first time, required the two hundred thousand dollar mark in five more years (1909), and now in only three years have advanced to three hundred thousand dollars, the total for the year, $300,276.51, showing an advance over last year of $21,829.82, with corresponding advancement in other respects.

The Board has purchased a piece of property which will be held for building purposes as the future may require. It is a choice building lot, well located, and suited to the purposes of the Board. The price paid was $60,000.00 on a cash basis. The Board has made helpful gifts in the usual channels. Cash appropriations were made as follows:

The Sunday School Seminary Lectureship	$ 250.00
The W. M. U. Expense Fund	400.00
Home Mission Board	1,000.00
Foreign Mission Board	1,000.00
State Boards for Sunday School Work	6,500.00
The Building Fund to Purchase Property	19,314.86
Chair of Sunday School Pedagogy (final)	812.50
Sunday School Board's Field Work	29,591.48
Other Denominational Work	1,980.22
	$60,849.06

Best of these cash donations, the Board made its usual gifts in colportage supplies. The total receipts of the Board for 1911-12 are $3,276.57. The investments from business earnings are:

Purchase and Furniture of Business House	$62,234 23
Permanent Bible Fund	12,000 00
Paid for Eighth Ave. Property	33,500 00
Building Fund	68,500 00
Reserve Fund	50,000 00
Other Assets (of current business)	83,129 35

Total $309,363 58

Manifestly, in view of this great record on so many lines of large outlay in the way of benevolence, it will now be necessary at least for the next few years to restrict our gifts somewhat. The Board has not by any means come to the limit of its possibilities and obligations.

FOREIGN MISSION BOARD.

Dr. J. W. Wingham read the report of the Foreign Mission Board. During the year, in account of the financial condition, the Board has not been able to send out new workers as it had hoped to do, yet there has been an increase in the forces on the fields.

A number of our missionaries from Mexico are in the States just at this time on account of the war conditions prevailing in Mexico. They hope to return to their work quite soon.

MISSIONARIES RETURNED TO FOREIGN FIELDS.

Miss Addie Barton, Mexico—August, 1911.

The Board is much gratified to see the growth of self-support among our churches on the foreign fields. This speaks well for the development of the work. We can never expect to see strong churches as long as they are dependent upon others, but the idea is taking possession of the churches in foreign lands that they must support their own ministry. Reference to our statistical table will show that quite a number of our native churches are now doing this. They are not only paying their own expenses, but some of them are doing more; they are helping to send the gospel to others. This is indeed a development worthy of special note. The pastors will become stronger and the churches will rise to a new position of usefulness as they thus develop in the work of the Lord. We want the churches to be able to conduct their own affairs.

A number of chapels and church houses are needed just now. There is an urgent need for this. In some cases the natives offer to give the land, but they are not able to contribute enough to put up houses. We should help them. There were steps taken at the last convention to inaugurate a Judson and Luther Rice centennial mission work and raise a large amount to be known as the Judson or Centennial fund. The committee reports on this matter at this session. The Board raised $580,408.17 for the entire work. Of this amount Mississippi gave $41,571.56. Mississippi has fifty-seven associations, 1,517 churches, 784 preachers. The finances of the Board is an ever recurring, interesting and very important subject.

The contributions from the Woman's Missionary Union amounted to $156,846.41—Mississippi, $5,641.43. Mrs. W. C. Lowndes' report as treasurer is as follows:

Receipts for Foreign Mission

Board $156,846 41

Board for Mome Mission 97,557 17

Receipts for S. S. Board 11,574 87

Receipts for Margaret Home 1,253 81

Receipts for Current Expenses 3,000 00

Receipts for Training School enlargement endowment 4,787 83

Receipts for Training School Scholarship Student Fund 2,937 16

Total Cash Contributions 267,957 25

Total Cash and Box Contributions 281,014 70

Report contains encouraging words from all the fields. The number of baptisms on the foreign fields during the year is 4,300, an increase of 700 over last year. There are 342 churches in foreign fields. Total membership, 24,698. Total number of missionaries, 268. Native workers, 577.

HOME BOARD REPORT.

It will be sufficient to present a summarized report taken from the Board's report of the Home Board presented by Secretary B. D. Gray. The report contains a spirit of hopefulness and helpfulness. Something over $14,000 is left in the treasury with which to do the work.

Total appropriation $380,000

No. workers employed 1,309

No. communities reached by Gospel preaching 2,368

No. baptisms administered 26,899

Total No. additions 47,728

No. churches organized 201

No. houses of worship built or improved 234

No. foreign workers employed 82

No. students in mountain schools 4,636

Value of mountain school property 500,000

No. mountain population reached by efforts of the Board 3,334,000

No. negro missionaries employed 37

No. negro baptisms 2,461

After reading the reports of the three boards, some committees and announcements, the convention adjourned.

The president gave a brief history of the gavel. It was presented by Dr. Jno. A. Broadus. The handle was made of wood from the banks of the Jordan, and the head of the mallet from near the city of Jerusalem.

Dr. Carter Helm Jones, pastor of the church, delivered the welcome address. It was exceedingly fitting and appropriate. The following are some of the sentiments expressed:

"It is a joy to welcome God's people to God's country. Twenty-three years ago I stood upon the floor of a convention on the mighty Father of Waters to deliver a similar address. Oklahoma City was then just three weeks old. Look at the city now and I am sure that you will concede that the age of miracles is not past. It never is past in working out the plans of God's kingdom. Brethren, you are standing in the direct center of God's beautiful earth. Deny it and I'll call you an eccentric Baptist.

"I have stood amid the Egyptian pyramids and looked back upon forty centuries of mystery behind me. I have stood on the Acropolis at Athens, with the Parthenon behind me and through the opalescent air I beheld the academic groves where Plato and Socrates taught. I have stood upon the Roman forum, its might and majesty, rendered more impressive still by decay. But all that belongs to yesterday. Today with its throbbing problems and vital issues is more interesting than all the recorded past, and it is with issues of the present that this great body has assembled to grapple. And for you, my brethren, Oklahoma City has taken the hinges off the gates and has opened wide her front doors. Welcome, thrice welcome to our city."

Dr. W. T. Lowrey, for a number of years president of Mississippi College, and at present president of Blue Mountain Female College, responded to the welcome address. Dr. Lowrey is one of the most humorous and forceful talkers in the membership of the convention and his response was replete with pleasant and complimentary allusions. Dr. Jones and Dr. Lowrey were classmates at the Southern Baptist Theological seminary and their speeches were supplementary in creating a cheerful, kindly atmosphere for the body to begin operating in.

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

Long before the hour for preaching, the house was filled to hear the convention sermon. Dr. Z. T. Cody, of South Carolina, preached the sermon. The singing was inspirational. The great organ for a while thundered its wonderful tones and softly and sweetly came down to a gentle whisper.

The text 1 Cor. 1:17: "Lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect."

"The Call of the Cross" was the theme of the discourse, the speaker explaining that the words of the text, found in the first chapter of Paul's first letter to the Corinthians, implied, "that the divine will must find human expression or it is inoperative," and adding:

"I am persuaded that the interdependence of the divine and human is deeper and more minute than we often think. It is a partnership that involves all the purposes of religion insofar as those purposes seek to become operative in human history."

Proceeding next to the amplification of his theme, the speaker said the apostle's response to the call of the cross was that he "gave to the cross a faith which mirrored its reality and its greatness." These terms, he said, were correlative, the one implying the other when used in reference to the cross.

Comparing Paul's attitude toward the gospel with that of the Greek philosophers, the speaker stated that to the Greek the aim of life was not truth but rather the quest of truth, while to the apostle "truth had been revealed in the cross of Christ; God was revealed there; all divine and all human relations were revealed there."

Comparing the apostle's attitude toward the gospel with that of the Jew, Dr. Cody said:

"The cross was an offense unto the Jew, not because of the stigma of the crucifixion, nor because of its idea of the atonement, but because it did away with all the special privileges of the Jew. It leveled him; it leveled the classes in his race; leveled the best to the place of the sinners, leveled his whole race with other races; they did not and would not be controlled by it. But to Paul, who was a 'Jew of the Jews,' the new kingdom created was holier and greater than that which had been brought to a close. As he saw it, the cross must be a dominant and regulative principle of all human life. He laid ruthless hands on the holiest institutions of Moses and burned them before the cross."

Coming to the human side of religion, the speaker asserted that "if the cross is great, then the badge and sign of true Christianity is greatness. The surest sign that a Christianity is false is that it is little and meager."

In concluding, Dr. Cody declared we must have a cross "that conquers everything or it conquers nothing; it must be carried everywhere if it is to be kept anywhere. This, my brethren, is the call of the cross, this consecration of the whole being."

The president of the convention being the chairman of the committee on world conference on faith and order, made the report of the committee, while vice-president Jones presided.

The plan is to have every denomination of Protestant faiths meet in one general session and agree upon some doctrine, tenet or manner of belief in the hope of eliminating controversy because of contrary beliefs among Protestant organizations. It was the result of the correspondence existing between the Episcopal committee presided over by Bishop Anderson, of Chicago, and the Southern Baptist committee, of which Dr. Dargan is chairman. The letter to Bishop Anderson was read in full and explained to an unmistakable certainty the position of the Baptists upon the subject.

It was agreed that it would be a most feasible and desirable consummation if all misunderstandings between denominations might be eliminated and an absolute and operating unity secured. That the Baptists were in general accord with the proposed plans of the Episcopal brethren. That the idea of spiritual unity was strong among this class of Christians and that as an organization they were anxious to make it even stronger. The report lamented the fact that they saw no immediate way, however, to organize under one great federal head or department and work in full co-operation. To attain this, though, the Baptists were willing to meet in a general world conference. But—

Concerning the doctrinal phase of the proposed conference, the hitch in the proceedings began. While hoping that the time would soon come when all Protestant churches might work in combined effort, it must decline to confer on unity of doctrine. It was frankly stated that the fundamental tenet of the Baptist organization was freedom of personal judgment and that their ideas must be defended against all differences of belief existing in other religious organizations. For several paragraphs the inability to accept an invitation to even discuss that portion of the proposed conference was directly but politely set out in the letter to Bishop Anderson.

It was a noticeable feature of Bishop Anderson's reply that he complimented the candor of the Baptist committee and thanked them for their "open, frank and sympathetic communication." He then formally asked that the Baptist association continue the committee for another year that a more thorough discussion could be secured and probable understanding for a world conference obtained.

The report of the committee was unanimously adopted and the same members continued for another year. When the motion was made it was remarked that "the Baptists were safe in the committee's present personnel."

As the president announced the committees, it was seen that the Mississippi representatives held prominent places on many of them.

THURSDAY MORNING.

At 9 o'clock, President Dargan called the convention to order. J. F. Scholfield led in the singing, "Sweet By and By" and "Revive Us Again." W. A. Borum, of Mississippi, was requested to conduct the devotions. The convention sang: "He is So Precious to Me." Read the last paragraph of Matt. 11.

The Sunday School Board has right of way and the report of the committee on the work of the Board was read by Dr. F. C. McConnell, of Waco, and was discussed by him.

P. E. Burrows, who has charge of the teacher training department of the Board's work, urged the great importance of teacher training. He strongly urged that better equipment must be provided in our Sunday Schools. We must have trained teachers.

Dr. J. P. Green, of Missouri, insisted on the same line of work. Each of the speakers expressed the sentiment that the time was at hand when we must have our own lesson committee which would provide our own literature in our own way. This must be done in order to preserve the integrity of our fundamental doctrines. To these sentiments the convention appeared to be in hearty accord.

DENOMINATIONAL PRESS.

The committee on the denominational press reported through Milton Riggs, of Missouri. This is the first time the convention has set apart an hour for the consideration of this all important question. Some recommendations of the committee evoked a lively discussion. It proved that there is among preachers, at least, a wide divergence of opinion as to how religious papers should be conducted. The committee recommended that the convention consider the appointment of a board of journalism, whose main business should be to publish a religious newspaper under the auspices of the convention. The recommendation was overwhelmingly voted down. M. Ashby Jones pleaded for an independent religious press and an independent editor.

He deplored the fact that religious papers because of financial needs, carried objectionable advertising in their columns, because they "needed the money." He also deplored the fact that before a religious paper can thrive, "it must be popular with the ministers" who are expected to become the subscription agents of the paper of their choice in their particular community.

He designated patent medicine advertising as objectionable. He considered it essential in order to have a Baptist paper like he suggested, independent of advertising, and of popularity with the preachers, that it would be proper for the convention to publish a journal.

J. B. Gambrell, of Texas, editor of The Baptist Standard, took issue with the Georgia divine, saying it was proper for a religious journal to accept patent medicine advertising from patent medicine firms or any other firms who advertised things for sale honestly and good, and which served legitimately the needs of mankind. He was not willing to admit that all patent medicines were bad.

"If a man takes a pill," he said, "he'll get the same results whether he takes it before or after it has been patented."

Rex H. W. Virgin struck a responsive chord, judging from his reception, when he pleaded from the floor of the convention, that the board might take up the work of publishing books or literature which would aid pastors in showing what Baptists stand for.

He deplored the lack of it under present conditions. He said if a person desired to be informed on Christian Science, on Russellism, or Unitarianism, he could have an abundance of literature on the subject free for the asking. Baptists might well emulate the example.

Secretary J. M. Frost called to the platform all the field secretaries of the Board, and the State secretaries who co-operate with them and introduced them to the convention.

RETROSPECTIVE, PROSPECTIVE AND INTROSPECTIVE.

In this number we print an account of the Southern Baptist Convention at Oklahoma City. As shown therein, the Foreign Mission Board is approximately fifty-six thousand dollars in debt and the Home Mission Board about fourteen thousand ahead.
The fact that the Foreign Board is in debt is no cause for discouragement, since the debt of last year was thirty-four thousand dollars greater. These much advertised figures were not obtained without a struggle, and the secretaries, with their helpers, are much to be lauded, but—

How many years has it been since Christ began to teach and to preach in Palestine?
How much has been accomplished in that time? Though boastfully we may claim that the "sun never sets" on Christ's followers, that no nation or people exist who have not had the opportunity of hearing the Word, the truth remains that only a comparatively small number of the peoples of the earth are professed Christians. In eighteen hundred and eighty-two years the Protestant Christian population of the world has become only eleven per cent of the entire population. There are more Roman Catholics, three times as many Buddhists, more Jahannists and more Mohammedans than Protestant Christians.

That's retrospective. This is prospective:
The world must be won for Christ. That there is such a small per cent of Protestants is no cause for discouragement. We began with one Christian—the Christ. But the rate of increase must be greater. The boards are doing all in their power with the money they have, therefore to make the

THE BAPTIST RECORD

rate of increase greater they must have more money. Each year the appropriations and apportionments for missions in the Convention has been greater. But that increase has hardly exceeded that of population. In order to bring about world evangelization giving to missions must be greater proportionately than the increase in population.
If the increase per cent in giving to missions remains the same as the increase per cent in population, then the proportion of Christians in the world will remain practically the same.

Now for introspection. The foregoing shows us that each of us must give more to this cause than we have ever given before, and give a great deal more if the world is to be won shortly for Christ. And not this alone, for those who heretofore have given nothing must be persuaded to give. This brings us back to the method formerly advocated in these columns: Weekly giving.

Let us have a contribution to missions every Sunday from every Baptist in Mississippi. Then we shall see our State contribution increased not ten per cent, but a hundred per cent!

C. H. ALEXANDER.

Jackson, as well as the entire State of Mississippi, sustained a distinct and positive loss in the death of Hon. C. H. Alexander which recently occurred from a sudden attack of heart disease.

While it is true that death has the effect,
as a rule, to soften opposition and to end unkind criticism by those who found fault with the deceased in his lifetime, it can truthfully be said that few men have died in our midst who have done more to build up the moral and material interests of this State in which he lived than C. H. Alexander. While an active and progressive lawyer and all around business man, he did not seek to build up his private fortunes at the expense of the common good. In all public questions he aligned himself on the side of justice, right, religion, and proper morals, and never allowed himself to be compromised by prejudice, applause or hope of personal reward. He has stood always for clean government, fearless and honest men in office.

He was perhaps more relied on by the prohibitionists of Mississippi in their past prohibition fights than any of that Godly host who worked side by side with him or followed in his intrepid lead against the debauching influences of the sale of whiskey. Every prohibition statute enacted by the legislature in recent years has been either drafted or approved by him, and the readers of this paper know how well they have stood the stringent tests and vicious assaults to which they have been subjected.

Mr. Alexander was indeed a superb man, and a great citizen in all the walks of life.

Hon. C. H. Alexander.

(A tribute to him from the Mississippi delegates at Oklahoma City.)

When the telegram came that C. H. Alexander had gone to his reward, sadness came to the heart of every Mississippi representative. At once Dr. W. T. Lowrey called a meeting of the eighty-five representatives from Mississippi. When he made a brief statement of his great life and the great things he had done for the uplift of our great State. He had been a strong friend and legal adviser, without fee, of Mississippi College, and had done more than any other man for prohibition in the State. Dr. Lowrey was instructed to send the following telegram:

"Truly a prince and a mighty man has fallen—mighty in intellect, in learning, in patriotism, in Christian character—loyal to every principle of righteousness. His influence will not die. Mississippi is far richer by his having lived, and far poorer by his death."

On motion of Rev. Martin Ball, this telegram was sent to the suffering ones at home—this delegation paying the expense.
It was a serious solemn moment with every one. Martin Ball.

At a dinner table one day one friend said to another: "I do not believe everything in the Bible because I do not understand it all." The other thoughtfully laid aside some bones from the trout he was eating and replied: "This fish has a good many bones in it. The bones were put there for a purpose. They serve their purpose though they are not good to eat. They do not, however, in any way impair the usefulness of the rest of the fish. There are animals who can use them for nourishment but I am not one of them. So instead of trying to use them for food and thereby choking myself to death, I lay them aside and enjoy the parts that I can assimilate. There are parts of the Bible that I cannot get spiritual nourishment from because I am not equipped to digest them. There are persons who are equipped to use these passages as food for their souls, but I am not one of them. But instead of choking myself to unbelief on them I lay them aside and enjoy the parts that I can understand and assimilate."

In big telephone exchanges they keep one or two men who do nothing but "shoot trouble," or relieve the dissatisfaction of subscribers by renewing batteries, uncrossing

A crowd of drunken vandals in New Orleans desecrated the graves of the dead in St. Vincent de Paul's cemetery and injured and destroyed monuments to the value of about fifteen hundred dollars. The dead take about as much interest in the damage done by liquor as the living do.

Contrary to dispatches published in some newspapers, Rev. I. P. Trotter, of Hattiesburg, was elected vice-president for the Foreign Mission Board; Dr. W. A. Borum, of Jackson, vice-president for the Home Mission Board, and Dr. W. T. Lowrey, of Blue Mountain, vice-president for the Sunday School Board in Mississippi. Pastors and others interested will please take note of this fact.

A young electrician was employed by a big electrical house to sell dynamos. On his way to his territory in Florida he was ordered by his house to go first to Lynn, Massachusetts, to spend a fortnight in the factory where the dynamos were made. His mother wondered that such expense should be gone to by the manufacturers when the young man had already had years of training in things electrical. His father explained it by saying that they wanted their salesmen to "catch a vision of the magnitude of the work on which he was entering."
"Where there is no vision the people perish." What is your vision?

News dispatches state that President Taft had sent Major Archibald Butt, his aide-de-camp, who perished so bravely on the Titanic, to Rome with a personal letter to the Pope congratulating him on the appointment of two new American cardinals. Several Christian periodicals have taken the President severely to task for what they think his attempt to secure the Catholic vote for President. Whether or not this is true we feel sure that every true patriot will protest against any attempt to affiliate the government of the United States with any religious organization. Church and State must remain separate if religious freedom is to be maintained.

The Home Mission contribution from Mississippi in the last convention year was $28-126.00. This is nearly three thousand short of what we undertook to raise. The foreign mission contribution was $41,571.00. That is more than three thousand over the amount asked of us. Under the adverse conditions of the present year this is a magnificent showing. For the sake of saving the lost, we can forget the low price of cotton, the boll weevil, the short crop, the rains, the flood, the hard winter the presidential election and other adverse circumstances. Many have done well; now let us all do better.
Now is the time to take our bearings and make preparation for another year. The convention in Oklahoma City will help to do this.

Dr. A. H. Strong, president of Rochester University and Seminary, is just completing forty years of service in connection with this great institution and proposes to retire at the close of this session. He has been a tower of strength to the cause for a generation and more. His volumes on systematic theology and classic, standard and authority on that subject. His mind has as keen an edge as a razor and his love of truth is a passion. We are glad to see that he is publishing two volumes called "Miscellanies" which are just from the press, and will be specially acceptable and appropriate at this time. He has other volumes on "The Theology of the Great Poets," and "Essays Philosophic and Religious." These new volumes will be welcomed and enjoyed now when this veteran is so much in the minds of the Baptist people.

South Mississippi Encampment.

Hattiesburg, Miss.—June 23-30.

The following article from the Hattiesburg News makes mighty good reading to those who are interested in the encampment and Womans' College:

"TRACTION COMPANY BEGINS EXTEN-SION OF CAR LINES.

"Despite the unfavorable weather, The Hattiesburg Traction Company put a large force of men to work yesterday, laying the track to the Woman's College and good progress was made. All material necessary for the construction of this line has been on the grounds for the past week, but the traction officials were awaiting a settled weather condition before starting construction. Fearful, however, that they would be delayed so long that they could not get the line completed in time for the Baptist Encampment, they decided to brave the unusual antics and activities of Jupe Pluvius and start in.

"Unless the rain continues with more than ordinary frequency the company will have no difficulty in completing this line by the last of June when the encampment opens.
Work on the other projected lines will not start until the college line is completed. New cars will be here before the new line is completed, and the schedule along Main and Bay streets on out to the college will be every ten minutes, giving a most desirable schedule for the traveling public."

The committee has arranged a most excellent program and the people of Hattiesburg are expecting a big crowd. Some have already written for rooms. Don't forget the time—from the fourth to the fifth Sunday in June. E. D. Solomon.

TO THE ALUMNI OF MISSISSIPPI COL- LEGE.

Among the attractive features of our coming commencement will be a meeting of the Alumni Association, Tuesday afternoon at 3:30, at which meeting we hope to have present a great number of our friends and alumni who will strive to arouse interest among those who have gone out from the college in former years. We urge that every alumnus possible will be present and lend his influence in words of cheer in this endeavor to urge forward the interests of our great college.

The B. Y. P. U. in the Convention.

This is a significant combination and deserves recognition on the part of our people
—the incorporation of the B. Y. P. U. work in the convention through this Board.

Since this was done, only a few years ago
this phase of cultural training of the Baptist young people of the South has gone forward with encouragement and increased efficiency. Better Christians, better church members; men and women more intelligent, more highly and distinctively cultured in the things of Christ—cultured in His grace and Spirit, in His doctrine and service, in the likeness of His character and in the things that make for His kingdom—this is the line of our emphasis, the worthy things sought after among our young people. This is building within and laying great foundations for the future.

The Board's book department is growing year by year. Books published by the Board are holding their place and gaining in public favor. It is an interesting fact that every book the Board has published has so far been successful.

"The Home Field," the organ of the Home Mission Board, made its May issue a denomicomposite picture of all the Baptist periodicals in the South and inside are found articles by many of the editors, with their pictures contained in cuts of the journals themselves. The May issue is an exceedingly attractive issue and we congratulate the editor on its production. If you are not already

SOUTHERN BAPTIST THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

There is no committee to report concerning the seminary, but an hour is arranged for the consideration of this great and important interest. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Seminary, had charge of the interest involved. It was suggested that the time had arrived when the Seminary should establish a permanent chair of sociology. The faculty realizes the necessity for such a chair.

Dr. Mullins said: "Last year we were faced with the embarrassing situation of not being able to help half the ministerial applicants. There were enrolled during the session a total of three hundred and twenty students and we could have enrolled many more had we been furnished the funds necessary to extend even partial aid to the numerous applicants."

Dr. George B. Eager, a member of the faculty and generally conceded to be one of the most finished scholars in the denomination, followed Dr. Mullins in an exhaustive address in which he outlined certain striking sociological phenomena of the present day and connected the same with the burning need of an educated ministry to cope with them.

"It is an established fact," said Dr. Eager, "that the percentage ratio of students for the ministry is growing less and less every year. If the Baptists of the South are desirous of arresting this very disturbing tendency, they must immediately take some material steps towards that end. This is also made necessary by certain sociological tendencies of the present day. When Thomas Jefferson was 17 years of age, he had never seen an aggregation in a single place of more than 200 houses. Today forty per cent of the population of this great country is in the cities, and eminent sociologists estimate that soon the ratio will be sixty per cent."

"The situation is further complicated by the fact that it is not always the most desirable rural element that flecks to the city. The two vicious population elements that flock to the city from the country are, first, the indolent wealthy class, and second, the ignorant, illiterate class, who, by the laws of heredity, are possessed with criminal or semi-criminal tendencies. How are we going to meet this complicated and perplexing condition? Time alone can disclose the completed answer, but the most obvious immediate step to take is to train up a Christian ministry capable intellectually as well as morally to do its part in the way of leadership, and the natural answer to this is that the denomination should begin at once to provide efficient material means to effect this object."

Dr. J. H. White of Tennessee, declared that the time is now ripe for the establishment in the Seminary of a department of sociology.

"We have reached the age of practical Christianity," declared Dr. White. "The church can no longer divorce itself from the great social and economic problems that throb for solution at the hands of consecrated, intelligent men.

Rev. P. F. Faulk, Waco, Texas, made an eloquent appeal for the establishment of the department of sociology, basing his remarks upon the premise that society must be economically saved before it can be morally and spiritually regenerated to any great extent, and that the church which moulds its policy in accordance with this fundamental necessity will be the church of the future.

Dr. Mullins said: "Our efforts to educate ministers should be placed upon a more scientific basis. Instead of desultory collections the fund should be permanent, so that we could know in the beginning of each scholastic year just what we can accomplish and base our plans on accurate knowledge, instead of estimates."

LAYMEN'S MOVEMENT.

The report of the committee on laymen's movement was read by J. L. Henderson, of Virginia, general secretary of this movement.

The needs of the Baptist laymen's movement throughout the Southland demand in the near future a great "get together" meeting, at which there should be an attendance of upward of 25,000 members. Both the mission and Sunday School Boards helped the laymen's movement during the year and it is expected that it will rapidly develop into one of the co-ordinate features of the vast array of departmental work over which the convention has jurisdiction.

W. E. Wilkins, of South Carolina, injected into the discussion something of a "live-wire" element. A fiery and eloquent son of the Palmetto State, whose evident motive was to create a sentiment that more consideration should be given to work done rather than great numbers. Little South Carolina, with 135,000 members, gave to foreign missions $51,130.37, while great Texas, with 315,000 members, gave only $77,852.71. You can see the proportion. He invites Texas to come over to South Carolina and see how they do great things.

The committee appointed to recommend a list of men from the several states from which the board of trustees of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary are to fill nine vacancies in that body, reported and from Mississippi were recommended Martin Ball, J. B. Leavell and L. E. Barton.

Prof. J. L. Johnson, of Clinton, made a splendid talk on the laymen's movement, telling some of the needs of the work.

THURSDAY-EVENING SESSION.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Dr. W. W. Hamilton, of Virginia. He read the Scriptures on prayer, especially Isa. 59:16. A male quartette sang "Draw Me Nearer." Prayer was offered by C. M. Thompson, of Kentucky. Reports of committees on the Home Mission Board were read, and discussions were had on each of them.

L. R. Scarborough, of Texas, recommended a "Southwide revival," which means that every minister within the bounds of this convention shall hold a meeting at the same period at some near date. If this shall be done, more than ten thousand Baptist preachers would be engaged in revival services at once.

There are 23,228 Baptist churches in the Southland, but of this number, in many instances, one preacher is pastor of two and three and four churches. The idea, however, is stupendous, and the committee's report was unanimously adopted.

Another incident of Dr. Scarborough's report was the fact that his committee insisted upon the "evangelization of the denominational schools and the educationalizing of the churches." This was brought out in the statement that too much scientific training tended to destroy denomination truths.

O. C. S. Wallace, of Maryland, and H. L. Winburn, of Arkansas, read reports from the various phases of the mission fields. The one described the positive menace of foreigners and asked that renewed efforts be put forth to establish sufficient missions to take care of the problem; the other the various needs of evangelism in Cuba, Panama, the South and the Southwest. Both reports were direct and unmistakable in their terms and decidedly emphatic upon the conditions as presented.

All the reports were cheerful, hopeful and in some particulars inclined to rejoice at the concentrated, effective and laudable results being accomplished by our people.

Before adjournment, a happy feature was presented. About twenty Osage and Pawnee Indians were ushered to the platform. Missionaries in charge of the stations, made introductory addresses discussing the Indian as a Christian and the possibilities of his race from a religious standpoint. Orlando Kinworthy, full blood Osage, made an address. He was followed by Old Chief White Eagle, a Pawnee Indian scout during the Civil war. Robert Peters interpreted for the ancient converted Indian. Charles Knife Chief, also a Pawnee, who became enthusiastic in his address and somewhat oratorical in his efforts to convince the pale-faces that the Indians were not all dead who were good. This phase of the program was completed with a song by the Indians in their own language. When Chief White Eagle arose to make his speech he was greeted with a chantanqua salute. It was a great night for the Indians and likewise for the delegate unused to Indian folk.

Old Chief White Eagle is the oldest chief among the Pawnees. He is 79 years old, and was converted and was baptized last July. One of these Indians was converted the first Sunday in May. She was called Sister Lone Chief. She seemed perfectly happy. The song sung was "Take the Name of Jesus With You." The Indians sang in their own tongue, the verse, and the convention sang the chorus. This was one of the happiest moments of the convention. Members of the convention pressed in and shook the hands of these red men.

FRIDAY-MORNING SESSION.

President Dargan called the convention to order promptly at 9 o'clock. Sang "Glory to His Name." "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" was also sung. The devotions were led by Claude W. Duke. He read Ps. 23 and 30, and led in prayer.

Dr. Burrows read his statistical report. It will be printed in the Journal.

The report of the committee on co-operation with a like committee from the Northern Convention concerning the work in New Mexico, reported through the chairman, E. Y. Mullins. The two committees reached an entirely harmonious conclusion in regard to New Mexico. Their finding has been approved by the convention. A similar report will be presented to the Northern convention when it meets in Des Moines on May 21. If ratified, the new arrangement will be put into force within sixty days.

There are now two State conventions in New Mexico, Northern and Southern, with continual friction necessarily resulting. At a meeting of the two committees held last summer at Old Point Comfort it was agreed that New Mexico should be attached to the Southern convention, and that a new State convention should be organized, independent of the existing organizations, which should declare such principles of co-operation in regard to mission work and the other activities of the church that there could be no misunderstanding.

It is also provided that a new State secretary shall be elected, with neither of the present secretaries eligible to the place, and that every possible step shall be taken to eliminate the existing friction.

As each Baptist church is an independent entity, the adoption of the reports by the two great Baptist conventions will not be in any way binding on the Baptists of the new State, but it probably will have enough moral weight to insure its adoption there.

It developed, however, during the debate on the matter, that there was some objection in New Mexico to the harmony plan, and that a pamphlet in opposition to it had been circulated among delegates to this convention.

The suggestion was made that the committee be continued. J. M. Frost objected to the committee being a permanent one. It was shown that no such thing was desired, but that the committee should be continued until this matter be entirely settled.

A. J. Barton, of Texas, declared that the only difference between Southern Baptists and Northern Baptists was that one lived in the South and the other in the North, and that they were all American Baptists who should not let anything interfere with the great work which is being done by the Baptist church in America.

J. B. Gambrell, of Texas, read the report of the committee on "functions and finances" of the Home Board. The report emphasized the necessity of bringing the backward churches into line, and declared that it was necessary for them to save the lost of earth in order to save themselves.

A supreme effort will be made by the Board to secure greater co-operation and a trained force of home missionary effort, as it is not desired that the church should make a more powerful showing abroad than at home.

The Board had asked for authority to make investments in business property in Atlanta, the intention being to erect a building for its own use. As adopted by the convention it is authorized to invest the undistributed funds at its discretion.

J. F. Vines, of South Carolina, presented the report of the committee on the building loan fund. He made an eloquent appeal to the convention not to allow the denomination to be eclipsed by all others in the great matter of church building work. He points to the fact that the Baptists have more than three thousand homeless churches, nearly twice as many as any other denomination in America, and went on to show that no church could do effective work without a home of its own. He paid high compliment to the church buildings in Oklahoma City and to the spirit which they evidence of an intention to keep the religious work of the city on a par with its financial and material advancement.

He stated that the convention had only $76,000 in its building loan fund. It is hoped to raise $1,000,000 for this important fund.

W. M. Vines, of Missouri, read the report of the committee on mountain schools. He showed that there are now twenty-nine such schools in seven states, with 4,636 pupils, and property valued at $499,953, of which the board contributed $8,825, and $8,400 was paid on the indebtedness.

Dr. Vines stated that fifty per cent of the mountaineers are Baptists, but that the Catholics and other denominations are trying to gain a foothold among them. Dr. Gray declared that one dollar among those people would accomplish more than two or three any place else, but that in spite of the fact that it is their natural field the Baptists are not doing their share and that the Presbyterians are putting in three dollars in that work to every dollar spent by the Baptist denomination.

An amendment to the report offered by J. T. Christian, of Arkansas, directing the board to take up the question of establishing one of these mountain schools in the Ozarks, at Mountain Home, Ark., or elsewhere, was adopted by the convention.

FRIDAY-AFTERNOON SESSION.

H. L. Winburne, of Arkansas, conducts the devotions, and leads the audience at once to a throne of power and grace.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION.

Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University, Texas, commended the work of Christian colleges, seminaries and universities. He spoke from actual experiences. He pointed out the fact that the State institutions were largely a matter of business, not of a denominational or Christian training, and for that reason it is essential that Baptists have college men educated along the lines of religious progress. He hoped that the apportionment would include this description of disbursements along with that for church missions, for, he declared there could be no active, operative missions, without intelligence among the ministers in charge of the missions.

F. C. McConnell, also of Waco, Texas, spoke to the same resolution, but along a different idea. He pleaded for a proper apportionment for the mountain schools. He is a native of the North Carolina mountain districts and his efforts were in behalf of the people with whom he had associated in younger manhood and of whom he had learned all that was native to their ideals, their hopes and possibilities. At one juncture Dr. McConnell referred to the Hillsville tragedies. He declared that the Hillsville murders were not characteristic of the mountain people, but that the same incident might have been staged in Oklahoma City or Atlanta had men with a similar spirit believed themselves to be aggrieved and followed natural impulses for redress.

He declared that there were 23,074 churches in the South represented by this district and that between 10,000 and 11,000 were non-contributing. He was anxious that proper educational training be endorsed that those churches might become stronger and more self-reliant in character. It was incidentally stated that of the 11,000 non-contributing organizations, 4,000 were without buildings.

Dr. E. M. Potat, president of Furman University at Greenville, S. C., followed with an extremely able defense of educational advancement.

J. M. Carroll, of the Oklahoma Baptist College at Shawnee, and W. T. Lowrey, of Mississippi, spoke to the question of Christian education.

E. L. Connelley, chairman of the board of trustees, made a report in the nature of a recommendation that each State raise a proportionate sum for a total of $18,000 as a student fund. The intent of the fund is to defray the expenses in the theological seminary of students for the ministry, who are unable to defray the expenses themselves. In the apportionment Mississippi is requested to give $1,800.00.

The recommendation was adopted.

EVENING SESSION.

A mass meeting on foreign missions was held. Two reports of the committees on the report of foreign board. The first was read by W. S. Pickard, of Georgia, on pagan fields. The audience was thrilled with his earnestness and eloquence.

Dr. Pickard took the bold stand that there could be no comparison between the Baptists and the Vatican. He declared, however, that it should not be the intention of the Baptists to destroy Rome, but to win Rome. He expounded the idea that the pope nor the priests should be blamed in that they were a portion of a system that had been building during centuries and that it was their life's work to maintain the system. On the other hand he declared that the same unwavering attention to duty should characterize the Baptists in combating this force and system. Compromise, he stated, would be absolute surrender.

Dr. Preston Blake, of Alabama, presented the report on pagan fields.

Dr. Blake, in discussing his report, declared that China since the establishment of the republic, was a peculiarly fruitful field of immediate possibilities. He urged that prompt action, though, be taken in that the country is now in a formative period and will either become at once a mighty influence of paganism or else converted to Christianity. Speaking of Japan, he described the people as restless and ambitious to acquire the civilization of Christianity, but without the Christianity.

Short addresses were made by D. H. Lester, missionary to Mexico; John W. Shepherd, Brazil, and Wade Bostwick, China.

The secretaries announce twelve hundred delegates registered up to the present time—the final report will not be made until the hour of adjournment.

The committee on religious exercises was read by the chairman. Mississippi was well represented in the preachers who were asked to fill pulpits. The following were appointed: I. J. Trotter, Martin Ball, W. B. Hall, Howard L. Weeks, L. E. Barton and H. L. Martin.

Dr. W. F. Farborough of Anniston, Ala., who so lately left our State, mingled with his Mississippi brethren with much joy to them and apparent pleasure to himself.

Don W. McWhittington, president of the Mississippi Convention, moved easily among the brainiest of the convention. His picture appeared in the Daily Oklahoman.

SATURDAY—MORNING SESSION.

The sun shines bright, and the air is pure and balmy.

Dr. Edwin M. Potat, of South Carolina, led the devotions. He read Heb. 12:18, and Eph. 3:18. All felt that we were in the very presence of Jesus. Warm hearts beat still more warmly as they listened to the burning words of God's truth.

The committee on the time and place presented a unanimous report. The convention will hold its next meeting in St. Louis, Mo., and T. W. O'Kelly, Raleigh, N. C., will preach the sermon.

W. B. L. Lavell, of Gulfport, was elected to the board of trustees of the seminary at Louisville, Ky., a member of that board. Perhaps one of the most important matters of business yet handled by the convention was the vote to establish the Judson Memorial fund, which involves the raising of $1,000,000 for the adequate equipment of colleges in foreign fields.

Of the amount, $200,000 is apportioned for the Baptist foreign publication interests. The money is to be raised in three years, and not later than the annual Southern convention in 1915.

In addition to this the memorial fund is to consist of $250,000 for the hospitals and mission homes in the foreign fields.

The committee recommended that Dr. T. B. Ray, educational secretary of the foreign mission board, be given the task of raising the sum, and that while so engaged he be dismissed from his regular duties with the board, and to have authority to engage such assistants as necessary.

The committee further recommended that the president of the convention appoint an advisory committee to act with Dr. Ray, the committee to be composed of one member from each State in Southern Baptist territory.

The fund takes its name from the first American Baptist missionary.

The movement to continue and enlarge the work foundations of which were laid by Judson, is a memorial of appreciation of his work.

SATURDAY—AFTERNOON SESSION.

Certainly, this is a historic day in the Southern Baptist Convention. Besides laying out the mission work on a $1,030,000 basis, another $1,250,000 is recommended for educational advancement in foreign fields. $250,000 of this for equipment. It is a day of excessive enthusiasm, abundant hope and greater possibilities, generosity and declarations of renewed efforts to spread the gospel as Baptists see it.

This year is the centennial anniversary of the conversion to the Baptist faith of Adoniram Judson, one of the most eloquent and forceful of the denomination. He was also the first foreign missionary in the Baptist church and from the date of his baptism in Calcutta, India, 100 years ago, began the efforts of the Baptists of the United States to establish missions and send preachers into foreign territory. His memory will be honored by special services Sunday afternoon at which Dr. Lansing Burrows, Georgia; Dr. E. Y. Mullins, Georgia; Dr. W. E. Sallee, Kentucky; and Rev. Dr. T. B. Ray, Virginia, will make addresses.

VOTE BIG SUM.

In memory of the fact that this is the hundredth year of Judson's start as a Baptist preacher, the committee on foreign missions Saturday recommended that $1,250,000 be raised during the next three years. The entire amount is to be expended for educational advancement. Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars is specifically set out for equipment purposes. It is the largest individual sum ever voted by a Protestant denomination for similar purposes. It was stated by the committee in its report that it required 100 years to effect the conversion of 1,000,000 people, although during the last six years, 3,000,000 have been converted. There are now of the Baptist denomination 227 schools in foreign countries with a student enrollment of 6,156. Of these there are ten theological seminaries with 212 students. Dr. T. B. Ray, Virginia, was recommended for appointment as leader of the committee to raise the sum voted.

After short devotional exercises conducted by the Rev. W. W. Hulton, North Carolina, the afternoon session began with the report of William Wester Hamilton, Virginia, president of the B. Y. P. U. He made a short address introducing the secretary, Thomas Joseph Watts, Bowling Green, Kentucky. It is of interest that President Hamilton declared that the ambitions of the B. Y. P. U. were to obtain but five points of excellence. These were not quantity, but quality; not flag raising, but foundation laying;

not entertainment, but training; not display but service; not stimulants but character.

UNIONS GROWING.

Secretary Watts' report showed that seventy per cent of the unions and membership were west of the Mississippi and for that reason he recommended the appointment of a missionary for the section east of the river. There had been an increase of unions, according to the report of from 1,246 last year to 1,528 this year, west of the Mississippi. In the same territory the enrollment had increased from 32,200 to 44,665 membership. In some states the increase had been from fifty to one hundred per cent. In the aggregate there are 2,423 unions with a combined enrollment of 76,665 members. This is an increase over last year of 460 organizations and 15,965 members. Texas has the largest with 668 unions and 23,080 members; Maryland the smallest, with 32 unions and 1,500 members.

Dr. W. W. Hamilton was re-elected president. T. J. Watts, of Kentucky, was re-elected secretary. Dr. C. V. Edwards, of Greenwood, was selected as vice-president for Mississippi. Several interesting addresses were made to the report. Among the number J. T. Watts, of Virginia, brother to the secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON WOMAN'S WORK.

S. H. Campbell, Little Rock, made a report on woman's work. In the address following the detailed report, he declared the women's societies were bringing the church politics to a higher and better standard of excellence and purity and that they were destined to even greater accomplishments. During the twenty-four years of women's organizations, $2,607,900.65 had been contributed through those channels. There were 1,515 new societies organized during the year and indications suggest a larger increase for 1913.

Owing to the fact that the ladies hold their meeting in connection with the convention, not much time is given to woman's work.

REPORT ON TEMPERANCE.

Chairman A. J. Barton, Texas, of the temperance committee, made an annual report. The report discussed the present prohibition situation pending laws, recent legislation and hopes for the future. The Ames decision in the Oklahoma Supreme Court commission was one of the court decisions featured and commended. Fred Caldwell, Oklahoma City, lawyer, spoke to the report on invitation. Among others making temperance speeches were: S. A. Smith, Louisiana; John Carney, Texas; W. S. Wylie, Oklahoma; J. H. Gambrell, Texas; George W. Upshaw, Georgia; and W. J. Candill, Oklahoma. The new committee on temperance appointed Saturday night included A. J. Barton, Texas; A. D. Freeman, Texas; E. E. Folk, Tennessee; S. P. Brooks, Texas; E. C. McConnell, Texas; J. H. Gambrell, Texas; S. H. Campbell, Arkansas, and Joshua Levering, Maryland.

The Baptist Record

A FOREWORD.

While the editor is away, the Manager, who is broke and has to stay at home, is stealing a march on him by slipping in a Baptist Record Page. This is due to three reasons:

Firstly, "If you don't toot your own horn, it will not be tooted!"

Secondly, To get rid of what's in my head.

Thirdly, In my effort to utilize everything, I have found, I fear, the only place where I can use the heading of the "Hobble Skirt Dinkie" we loved so well (!).

A STEP THAT COUNTS.

What I think to be the most important step ever taken towards the advancement of our Baptist paper, and one of the most important moves toward the development of our people, was the decision of the deacons and pastors of Prentiss church. After much prayer and hard study of the condition of our county, Brother Leon Tyrone, the Sunday School superintendent and banker, and Brother Quin, the pastor, helped me to work out a perfect plan by which every family in the church might receive The Baptist Record without any friction or embarrassment incident to it being given to the poor and indifferent by a special collection for that purpose.

In a conference held in the banker's private office, a conference composed of two merchants, two doctors, two bankers, a lawyer, and pastor, those strong thinking men decided that the best way to develop the people through the paper was for the church as a church, to subscribe for every family by a subscription in which the membership might contribute in proportion to their ability, and in case the subscription at the church is not large enough, it is to be followed up by a committee. You may ask how about the money paid in by the present subscribers? It is credited to the church fund to be raised.

I cannot fail to give West Point church credit for being the first to provide for all of its members, but it was done on a different basis, though the writer is at fault and not the West Point church, for I am sure that West Point will gladly adopt the new principle when it is presented to them as they would have done when the noble pastor and laymen opened up their big hearts and exercised this good business judgment and put it in every home.

Any question will be gladly answered through The Record or privately.

What is your influence doing for the man working by your side?

Will it advance the Lord's cause to put The Record in every home? God grant that it may be done.

If you have your pastor's money in your pocket, God sees it!

AN APPEAL

Will every pastor in Mississippi make June "The Baptist Record" a oath? With your prayerful, active help we can double our subscription this year.

THERE IS SOMETHING IN MY HEAD.

PEBBLES FROM MOUNTAINS.

"I will be grateful to God if all of my people will take the paper."—Dr. L. P. Trotter.

"I am going to put it in every home."—Ed Solomon.

"I consider the paper of as much importance as Home Missions, of which I spoke last Sunday."—Dr. Borum.

"I couldn't do the work I'm doing here in my own church without our paper."—Dr. Barton.

"I consider The Baptist Record equivalent to an assistant pastor."—J. B. Quin.

"Every man needs one of three things—a pastor, aound pup, or his denominational paper, so when he gets mad, he will have something to kick!"—Dr. Gambrell.

"I will present it to every one of my churches."—L. P. Arender.

"We are planning to put it in every family as soon as the mission books close."—Harry Leland Martin.

"You should have the paper for your children's sake, and it will do you good."—J. P. Williams.

"I want you to come, and I will help you all I can. I wish every family in my church would subscribe for it."—Dr. Edwards.

"Come the first Sunday in June and I think we can put it in all of the homes here."—Dr. Funderburg.

NEWS NOTES.

If the Lord gives you a choice thought, pass it on through The Record.

I can turn to my books in the office and lay my finger on the pulse of most of the churches in Mississippi.

Glance down the list until you locate the folks who were the largest givers to missions, and you will have found the ones interested in The Baptist Record.

What does "worship" mean?

When everything goes wrong, why not pray?

What does your nearest neighbor think of you?

A mustang mule can't beat some folks kicking!

Why do some people stop this paper when asked to pay up?

If you need an assistant pastor, why not try The Baptist Record?

Why do some people pay their telephone bill and fail to pay their pastor?

A large percentage of the New Testament is composed of Baptist "records."

I wonder if The Record will be of any service in raising money for our colleges!

Two ordinary hens will lay enough eggs in one year to pay for The Baptist Record!

Why shouldn't the church provide the paper as it does the preaching, for every family?

Every educated boy or girl means a new subscriber, therefore, send your children to college.

If you should work for your boss as you do for the Lord, how long would you hold your job?

Most of the prayermeetings where I have been were composed largely of Baptist Record readers.

Why is it that some folks take a notion to subscribe for The Record as soon as they change pastors?

From Water Valley.

When Water Valley ladies of B. W. U. fail to come and go, you may know that it is heavy rain or worse than that caused it so. Wherever we be in numbers great or few.

We work for Christ, though today we were only two. A chapter from Hebrews was read. Then an earnest prayer said. A collection, too, was made. For God's tenth must be paid. "A Wishing Baptist."

From the Secretary's Office.

(This should have appeared two weeks ago, but owing to the length of our report we had no space to give it.)

During this week, our Methodist sisters have held their missionary conference in Jackson. It was our good pleasure to attend several of the sessions. Their work was helpful and inspiring. Miss Daisy Davies, of Nashville, field secretary, was with them two days. Her striking personality and pleasing address attracted her hearers immediately; but her great force, as we see it, lies in the fact that she so thoroughly acquainted with her work; she has all knowledge of it analyzed and systematized so that at her finger tips. Added to these qualities, she is deeply spiritual. Other visitors who added much to the value of the meetings, as well as women from the State, but a few, not to be mentioned were necessary. We received some valuable suggestions from these sisters.

TO DRIVE OUT MALARIA AND BUILD UP THE SYSTEM

Take the Old Standard GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC. You know what you are taking. The formula is plainly printed on every bottle, showing it is simply Quinine and Iron in a tasteless form, and the most effective form. For grown people and children. See.

Knees Became Stiff

Five Years of Severe Rheumatism
The cure of Henry J. Goldstein, 14 Barton Street, Boston, Mass., is another victory by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mr. Goldstein says: "I suffered from rheumatism five years, it kept me from business and caused excruciating pain. My knees would become as stiff as steel. I tried many medicines without relief, then took Hood's Sarsaparilla, soon felt much better, and now consider myself entirely cured. I recommend Hood's." Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

DEATHS

J. F. Lee.

On March 30, 1912 Brother J. F. Lee, after a painful illness, fell asleep. He bore his suffering with Christian fortitude. His manner of life illustrated his living faith in his Savior, which he enjoyed for thirty-three years. He was born February 16, 1863, joined the church in his youth and united with the Masonic fraternity, also with the W. O. W., and he was an exalted member of each. In the home he was a kind husband and loving father. As a neighbor and citizen he was kind and obliging, loyal to his country and stood for civic righteousness. As a friend he was true, and a safe counselor.

We miss him.
God bless the bereaved family.
W. P. Dorrell.

Strength comes from well digested and thoroughly assimilated food. Hood's Sarsaparilla tones the digestive organs and thus builds up the strength. If you are getting "run down," begin taking Hood's at once. It gives nerve, mental and digestive strength.

Priddy-Webb.

On May 19, 1912, at the home of H. L. Priddy, near Oakland, Miss., Mr. Earnest Priddy and Miss Velma Webb were married. The writer officiated. The groom is a young man highly respected and from one of our best families. The bride was one of our sweetest and noblest girls.

NO MORE DRUNKENNESS!

Simple Home Remedy Said to Quench
All Desire for Liquor.

New York (Special)—In view of the success of a very remarkable treatment for the drink habit, an association of New York business men is co-operating to help victims of this degrading and ruinous habit to overcome it in the privacy of their own homes.

To carry out this purpose the Renova Co., No. 290 Broadway, Branch 69, New York, has volunteered to distribute freely a trial supply of the remedy, which, it is asserted can be used with equal success without the knowledge of the victim.

The claims made for the treatment having been fully substantiated, press and public should unite in giving this offer wide publicity.

What Can the Missionary Committee Do?

By J. Campbell White, General Sec'y
Layman's Missionary Movement.

One of the greatest needs in the church life of our day is the development and wise use of volunteer workers. If the two hundred thousand churches of North America are to be enlisted deeply and permanently in missionary activity, a very large force of such workers will be required.

Thus far one of the finest opportunities that has appeared for splendid volunteer service is as members of missionary committees. There are three kinds of these committees, which are needed to work co-operatively, in order to reach out to the last church and the last member of each church. These three kinds of committees are:

1. The missionary committee in each local church.
2. The denominational missionary committee of each district composing a group of churches, whether that district is known as presbytery, classis, association, district or diocese.
3. The city or county committee of the layman's missionary movement.

At the present moment there must be at least a quarter of a million men who are members of one or other of these three kinds of committees. There is work enough to keep a whole million men busy, if this work is to be done thoroughly among the churches of the United States and Canada. The following condensed outline of the duties of these committees has been prepared with great care, in consultation with the leaders of many different denominations and is commended to church members generally for their thoughtful consideration.

THE MISSIONARY COMMITTEE IN THE LOCAL CHURCH.

1. "Take stock" at least annually and keep permanent records so that the growth of missionary interest and contributions can be measured from year to year. Statistical blanks may be obtained on application.
2. Study your church as a factor in the worldwide propagation of the gospel and plan to lead it out to its highest efficiency.
3. Adopt and carry through a comprehensive plan of missionary education for the entire church. This should include:
  - (a) Regular missionary meetings conducted by members of the church (probably monthly).
  - (b) The wide use of missionary pamphlets and books, and the taking of subscriptions for missionary magazines. Every missionary committee member should be a subscriber to "Men and Missions" as well as to
  - (c) Promoting in every possible way the adoption of higher standards of Christian stewardship. Bible classes, literature, addresses, testimony and prayer will all have a place in such a plan.
  - (d) Promoting among churches and Christians generally the practice of giving at least as much to missionary work at home and abroad as they give for the support of the local church.
  - (e) Keeping the church members from supposing that their "apportionment" is the measure of their du-

HILLMAN COLLEGE for Young Ladies CLINTON, MISS.

Rev. W. T. LOWREY, LL. D., Pres. L. T. LOWREY, Vice-Pres.
For some years we have had no agents. Our patronage is upheld largely on account of satisfied patrons and loyal students. Nearly all of last year's students who went to college anywhere returned to Hillman. We have behind us the alumnae of 59 years. Before us the brightest prospects we have ever had at this time of year. Many places for next session already held with cash deposits. Write for information.

Stamping Out Chills and Fever!!

Why endure what you can cure? Why shake and burn when you can turn to the nearest drug store for relief? Thousands upon thousands—a vast army of sufferers from Chills, Fever and Ague—have found Swamp Chill and Fever Cure a friend in need and a friend, indeed. This wonderful remedy is clearing Chills and Fever from the South! Its record of results clearly proves that

Swamp Chill and Fever Cure
Does the Work Thoroughly in Three Days

You begin to feel relief from the very first dose, and as you continue to take this agreeable Tonic Syrup you rapidly get better and better, until in a remarkably short time the chills are broken and the fever is banished for good and all. Swamp Chill and Fever Cure leaves no bad after effects; contains no arsenic or other dangerous drugs. It requires no purgative to be taken, as it acts directly on the liver and bowels, cleansing them gently—thoroughly removing the cause of the trouble. A sure cure for Malaria and Grippe.

Money Back If It Fails!!

Swamp Chill and Fever Cure is a guaranteed remedy. Its results are so certain that any Druggist who sells you a bottle is authorized to return your money, if the Chills once broken by this remedy return to plague you. Buy a bottle now and cure yourself!

(c) The organization of mission study classes or discussion groups at some favorable period each year.

(d) An intensive period of missionary instruction through all the church organizations once each year, continuing for at least one month preceding the organized personal canvass for subscriptions to missions.

4. Adopt and carry through a comprehensive plan of missionary finance for the whole church. This will involve

(a) The official adoption of the weekly missionary offering together with such public instruction upon its advantages as will lead the members generally to use this plan.

(b) Supplementing the regular weekly offering to missions by special thankofferings, preferably at the Christmas and Easter seasons.

(c) The organization and conduct of an annual personal canvass of the entire congregation for a weekly subscription to missions, not resting satisfied until all of the members and many adherents have become systematic contributors.

(d) Promoting in every possible way the adoption of higher standards of Christian stewardship. Bible classes, literature, addresses, testimony and prayer will all have a place in such a plan.

(e) Promoting among churches and Christians generally the practice of giving at least as much to missionary work at home and abroad as they give for the support of the local church.

In many cases it is only a fraction of what should be given.

5. Stimulate prayer for missions and missionaries on the part of the whole membership. This may be done by

(a) Emphasis upon the place and importance of prayer as the most powerful method of work.

(b) The circulation of helpful literature on this subject.

(c) The circulation and use of prayer calendars.

(d) Public prayer for missions in the church services, midweek prayer meetings, Sunday School, and all other church meetings.

6. Help to discover the recruits needed for missionary service, at home and abroad.

7. Promote habits of daily Bible study and prayer on the part of all Christians, that there may be the spiritual health and vigor essential for worldwide Christian conquest.

8. Stimulate personal evangelism as an essential part of Christ's world program.

9. Hold meetings of the committee regularly once each month to plan and pray for the largest measure of efficiency. At the beginning of each year a written policy for the coming year, embodying as many of the above lines of work as practicable, should be carefully worked out and adopted by the committee.

Pains All Over.

Houston, Texas.—"For 5 years," says Mrs. L. Fulenche, of this place, "I suffered with pains all over, especially in my back and side, and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. A friend told me of Cardui. Since taking it I feel so much better! Now I can do all my housework and pains don't bother me any more at all." Cardui is a strength-building medicine. Fifty years of success have produced, amongst its many users, confidence in Cardui and what it will do. During this time Cardui has relieved the female ailments of over a million women. Why not yours? Try it today. Your druggist sells it.

Jerusalem and Environs.

Tiberias, April 25th, 1912.

One must limit himself to a mere mention of the most interesting places for the fountains of thought once opened, have a tendency to flow on forever. John said that the world itself could not contain the books that should be written about the things which Jesus did; and so it might be said about the places. Having lived for years in Mexico, which is of the oriental type, this traveler could at once adjust himself to the habits and conditions of this people and not allow the narrow, filthy streets, the loathsome camels, and the repugnant people from the lower strata to detract for a moment from his reverential study of Bible lands. Furthermore, he desires to state that his faith has been strengthened, his comprehension broadened, and his knowledge deepened at every step. The Bible becomes to him a living, burning message after its inspirational study upon the scenes where the greatest dramas were enacted that the world has ever seen.

Jerusalem is fast changing, and those who are contemplating a visit here should hasten their coming before time and modern ways so change and veneer it as to make the ancient city scarcely recognizable. There are few places now upon which one may place his finger and say this is the spot where thus and so happened. The temple area is readily found. The garden of Gethsemane and the Mount of Olives are unmistakable, though occupied by churches, monasteries and shrines which tend to mar their former simple beauty. It is pitiable to see the fight and scramble by the Roman and Greek Catholics, the Greek orthodox and the Mohammedans for these sacred places which they have covered over with buildings, draperies and torgery that simply make one feel disgusted rather than worshipful. Even the tombs of the patriarchs at Hebron, the place of Elijah's feeding on the brook Cherith, Jacob's well, and the highest points on the wilderness mountains, where Jesus was tempted; Mt. Gerezim, Mt. Carmel and Mt. Tabor of the transfiguration are all occupied by buildings to which entrance is either forbidden or charged for. Now, if the thousands being used in building, were utilized for excavation, wonderful revelations would throw a flood of light upon the Holy Scriptures.

Curiously enough, a native Galilean, now pastor of the little Baptist church in Nazareth, was with the writer and his companion, who was a Methodist, and he said to us, "I have heard that in far-off America they say that the Jordan is such a little stream that you can stop it with your foot. Well, if that be true, you must have very big feet over there." The Methodist brother laughed and said, "Oh, I was immersed just like you," and it may be added this good brother had quite a tussle to even swim across the Jordan!

Oh, what stirring scenes have been enacted here in the years gone by! Here Joshua led the hosts of Israel over into the promised land; up there but a little way Elijah and Elisha came walking across the plain, talking as they came and crossed over to where the chariot of fire swept down and took Elijah up while Elisha left behind like a lad stricken with grief when his father is gone, cried out from the anguish of his soul, "My father, my father, the chariot of Israel and the horsemen thereof." Here John came preaching and baptizing the multitudes, till one day he lifted up his eyes and said, "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world!" Further on yonder in the dim distance can be seen—

"Old Nebo's lonely mountain,
On this side Jordan's wave,
In a vale in the land of Moab,
Where lies a lonely grave,
And no man knows that sepulchre
And no man saw it ere,
For the angels of God upturned the sod
And laid the dead man there."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By MISS M. LACKEY

THE KING AND HIS KINGDOM.

Matt. 23: 3; Jas. 3: 1, 5, 12.
Lesson 1. M. y 20.

Truthfulness.

Golden Text: Putting away falsehood, speak ye truth each one with his neighbor; for we are members one with another. —Eph. 4: 25.

Our lesson is still a continuation of the sermon on the Mount, by our Savior, with some additional verses taken from "James the brother of our Lord." So we doubtless have a lesson on truthfulness given by two brothers.

It is well for us to remember that there are two general kinds of untruth, one which flows out of the intention to deceive; this makes us hypocrites at heart. The other is accidental in many ways, but is still untruthful to one's character and one's standing. Our lesson today is a warning against this latter kind of lying.

"The difficulty in securing justice in our courts is increased by the witnesses who are willing to take an oath of truthfulness and then perjure themselves. When moral restraints are loose, lying not only becomes frequent, but is even declared justifiable. So what Jesus has to say about this taking of oaths and purifying our language."

Read the first five verses in the lesson.

Who spoke these words?

What did He mean by "forswear?"

Were the Jews given to swearing?

(To what important statement a man took an oath. After a time they came to think that even an oath might be broken unless they swore by God.)

Mention some things they did swear by in Jesus' time?

What did He say of such swearing?

Explain verse 3.

Read the next twelve verses of the lesson.

Who will judgment be heavier upon teachers?

When does James regard as "the perfect man?"

Name three things the tongue is like.

Give your reasons.

How does James illustrate by the fountain?

In what respect is the tongue the chief instrument for good?

In what respect is it the chief instrument for evil?

SEEK FURTHER ANSWERS.

How would you define a lie?

Is a lie ever right?

Give reasons for your answer.

What is meant by "his word is as gold as his bond?"

Does an oath add force to a statement?

Who is injured most by a lie?

Is lying the greatest evil the tongue may be guilty of?

Is the tongue as powerful and wicked as James says it is?

What do you think of a Christian's making free use of sarcasm?

Can one, in a zeal for a good cause, talk too much?

Is exaggeration lying?

To what extent is truthfulness a habit?

Why is it worth while to work hard to acquire it?

What is the difference between imagination and exaggeration?

How do habits in the home encourage one to be truthful or untruthful?

How does the careless use of speech tend to untruthfulness?

Read the first part of the fifth chapter and the last part of the tenth chapter of the book of Ecclesiastes.

Colportage Work.

I have been thinking for some time that more attention should be given to colportage work in this State, especially in South Mississippi.

I am glad to say that a good many of our preachers and laymen are waking up to the importance of having a colporteur in the field.

I have been in this work since the first of December, 1911, and have been placing our denominational and other good books in the homes of hundreds of people, and I consider it one of the most important things that our association has ever undertaken.

I will give you a few reasons why we ought to do this work. Because it is God's work and the gospel is carried into thousands of homes, a great many of which the pastor would never reach. People will read an attractive book and give it to the church. Then the Christian colporteur has a great opportunity of doing personal work, praying in the homes and inviting people to church.

Since I have been in this work I have had men of almost every profession to testify that they had been greatly benefited by some book I had put into their hands. So I say it is a great work, and the Baptists had just as well wake up to the fact and put men in the field, because the enemy is at work sowing tares in the wheat.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Woman's Ailments.

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.
I have found the cure.
I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—you, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is a safe and sure cure for: Leucorrhoea or White discharge, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors or Growths, also pains in the head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, cold, hot flashes, spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, earliness, kidney and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that it will cost you nothing to give the member, that it will cost you only about 12 cents for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations, showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and decide for herself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all, and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Discharge, Painful or Irregular Menstruation in Young Ladies, Pimples and skin diseases, and all ailments of the female system. It is a simple home remedy, and health always results from its use. Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell you that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment is yours, also the book. Write today, as you may not see this offer again. Address

IMPORTANT SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

THE Advertising Manager of The Record takes great pleasure in announcing that on account of the wide popularity of the Club and the evident advantages to its members, he has effected arrangements for the continuation of the Club. Ludden & Bates, one of the oldest, largest and most reliable Piano Companies in the country, has consented to continue the management of the Club. Readers who have joined the Club express themselves as "delighted" with the Club plans and with their pianos. Membership is open to every reader of the paper and if you have not already joined you are cordially invited to write for full information regarding what we believe to be the greatest opportunity to obtain a high-grade piano, ever offered by a reliable house.

THE OBJECTS OF THE CLUB

By clubbing together to secure the lowest wholesale price for Club members. The Club saves you fully one-third the cost. Ludden & Bates finance the Club and ship your piano at once.

To obtain for its members the most advantageous terms of easy monthly or quarterly payments. Almost any terms you want.

To provide that in the event of your death, after $60 has been paid on your piano, all further payments are cancelled and your family is given a receipt in full. This is a splendid feature and removes every objection to the easy payment plan.

To insure the best quality of pianos guaranteed by an old and reliable house, thus avoiding the disappointment so often resulting from dealing with irresponsible firms. Club members also have the privilege of testing the piano thoroughly in their own homes before accepting it.

To obtain for the Club members the best price for his old piano in exchange for a new one or for a new automatic player piano that any member of the family can play.

Every piano furnished to Club members is fully guaranteed and backed by the reputation of Ludden & Bates, one of the oldest, largest and most reliable Piano Companies in America.

Ludden & Bates, Atlanta, Ga.
Gentlemen:

Take great pleasure to inform you that after a thorough investigation of your New Scale $400 Ludden & Bates Upright Pianos, I found them to be instruments perfect in every respect. They have a fine tone, of a beautiful singing quality and wonderful sustaining power. Too much praise cannot be bestowed on them, and I am sure they will meet with the greatest success wherever they are heard. Allow me to congratulate you on this wonderful achievement, and wishing you all success, I am, believe me, Very truly yours,

HANS DREHER, Director.

Dear Sirs:

Club Piano received in good order. We are well pleased with it. Better and nicer than pianos sold here by agents for from $350 to $400. Our little town is pretty well stocked with pianos of different makes, and it is considered that we have the best piano in town. We thank you for your selections and prompt shipment.

Yours, with best wishes,
J. R. WILLIAMS.

GIVEN RECEIPT FOR $125.
Ludden & Bates, Atlanta, Ga.
Ecu, Miss.

Gentlemen:—We purchased one of your Club Pianos and are well pleased with it. Would not take anything for it. All who have heard it think it one of the grandest they ever heard. While we were paying for it my husband died. You gave us a life insurance clause. We were still owing $125 which was nicely settled, and our note was returned to us marked paid.

We thank you very much for your kindness and prompt attention, which you have shown to us. Anyone who wants the best piano made should buy one of these. They will be pleased with it and will be treated nicely, as we were. We appreciate your kindness very much.

Yours truly,
MRS. J. A. BRAMLETT.

GETS RECEIPT IN FULL

Gentlemen:—After my contract for one of the Ludden & Bates Club Pianos had been running about fourteen months, my husband died. The firm being advised of the fact, within a few weeks after, sent me a receipt in full for balance due on piano. All of which goes to prove that they keep good faith with their patrons in regard to their free insurance agreement.

I can heartily recommend them as being in every way reliable.

Yours truly,
MRS. J. C. RUSSELL.

Gentlemen:—I am the owner of Ludden & Bates Piano No. 111 in rosewood case, and I take pleasure in mentioning that it has a good clear tone and a smooth even touch, notwithstanding it was bought of you twenty-six or twenty-seven years ago, during which time it has had constant service—considered by some an extraordinary amount of hard usage.

This instrument has served two generations of our immediate family in a most satisfactory way, and we have no idea of parting with it for any other piano. Wishing you success, I am,

Very truly yours,
(Signed) H. V. COARSEY.

Ludden & Bates, S. M. H.,
Gentlemen:—I have tried the piano and find it as mentioned above. Very truly yours,
